Executive Proclamation

Office Of The Governor

WHEREAS, South Dakota was founded with hard work, perseverance, dedication to duty and concern for one's fellow man; and,

WHEREAS, Jack Stengel has devoted his life to the betterment of his community, the caring and sharing with family and friends, and the day-to-day giving and loving which make South Dakota a great state in which to live and work; and,

WHEREAS, Jack Stengel and the Dakota Granite Company donated South Dakota's stone to the Fountain of Freedom in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, in observance of the Bicentennial of the Constitution; and,

WHEREAS, It is support from businesses and individuals, such as Jack Stengel and the Dakota Granite Company, that will make South Dakota's Centennial and the Constitution's Bicentennial celebration a success; and,

WHEREAS, It is fitting and proper for the Governor of South Dakota to recognize Jack Stengel for his contribution to the State of South Dakota:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, GEORGE S. MICKELSON, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim September 10, 1987, as in South Dakota, I join the citizens of this state in wishing him continued prosperity.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Second Day of September, in the Year of Our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Eighty-Seven

GEORGE S. MICKELSON, GOVERNOR

ATTEST:

JOYCE HAZELTINE, SECRETARY OF STATE
